Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards bodies (ISO member bodies). The work of preparing International Standards is normally carried out through ISO technical committees. Each member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been established has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work. ISO collaborates closely with the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) on all matters of electrotechnical standardization.

International Standards are drafted in accordance with the rules given in the ISO/IEC Directives, Part 2.

The main task of technical committees is to prepare International Standards. Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for voting. Publication as an International Standard requires approval by at least 75 % of the member bodies casting a vote.

Attention is drawn to the possibility that some of the elements of this document may be the subject of patent rights. ISO shall not be held responsible for identifying any or all such patent rights.

ISO 2419 was prepared by the European Committee for Standardization (CEN) Technical Committee CEN/TC 289, Leather, in collaboration with the Physical Test Commission of the International Union of Leather Technologists and Chemists Societies (IUP Commission, IULTCS), in accordance with the Agreement on technical co-operation between ISO and CEN (Vienna Agreement). It is based on IUP 1 and IUP 3 originally published in J. Soc. Leather Trades Chemists, 42, p. 382 (1958) and 42, p. 386 (1958) respectively and declared official methods of the IULTCS in 1959. Updated versions were published in J. Soc. Leather Tech. Chem., 82, p. 199 (1998) and further revisions published in J. Soc. Leather Tech. Chem., 84, p. 241 (2000) and reconfirmed as official methods in March 2001. A further revision of IUP 3 was published in J. Soc. Leather Tech Chem., 83, p. 337 (2002) which was confirmed as an official method in May 2003.

IULTCS, originally formed in 1897, is a world-wide organization of professional leather societies to further the advancement of leather science and technology. IULTCS has three Commissions, which are responsible for establishing international methods for sampling and the testing of leather. ISO recognizes IULTCS as an international standardizing body for the preparation of test methods for leather.

This fourth edition cancels and replaces the third edition (ISO 2419:2006), which has been technically revised and includes the alternative tropical standard atmosphere (3.2.3).
