Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards bodies (ISO member bodies). The work of preparing International Standards is normally carried out through ISO technical committees. Each member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been established has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work. ISO collaborates closely with the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) on all matters of electrotechnical standardization.

International Standards are drafted in accordance with the rules given in the ISO/IEC Directives, Part 2.

The main task of technical committees is to prepare International Standards. Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for voting. Publication as an International Standard requires approval by at least 75 % of the member bodies casting a vote.

Attention is drawn to the possibility that some of the elements of this document may be the subject of patent rights. ISO shall not be held responsible for identifying any or all such patent rights.

ISO 24802-1 was prepared by the European Committee for Standardization (as EN 14413-1:2004) and was adopted, under a special “fast-track procedure”, by Technical Committee ISO/TC 228, Tourism and related services, in parallel with its approval by the ISO member bodies.

ISO 24802 consists of the following parts, under the general title Recreational diving services — Safety related minimum requirements for the training of scuba instructors:

— Part 1: Level 1

— Part 2: Level 2

Introduction

The International Standards relating to recreational diving services have been prepared by ISO/TC 228/WG 1 “Diving services”, with the aim of establishing a series of specifications for safety practices and the provision of services.

Therefore these International Standards specify:

- necessary levels of experience and competency of scuba divers and scuba instructors,
- safety practices and requirements for recreational scuba diving service providers appropriate to the different diving levels.

The requirements specified are minimal; they do not preclude the provision of additional training or the assessment by a service provider of additional competencies. These International Standards represent a tool for comparison of existing (or future) qualifications of scuba instructors. In no way do they represent a course programme nor do they imply that course programs and scuba instructor certifications issued by different nations or training organizations must necessarily correspond to these levels.

Recreational diving services — Safety related minimum requirements for the training of scuba instructors —

Part 1: Level 1

1 Scope

This part of ISO 24802 specifies the competencies that a scuba instructor has to have achieved in order for a training organization to award the scuba instructor certification indicating that he has met or exceeded scuba instructor level 1 and specifies assessment of these competencies.

It also specifies conditions under which training has to be provided, in addition to the general requirements for recreational diving service provision in accordance with ISO 24803.

This part of ISO 24802 applies only to contractual training and certification in recreational scuba diving.
