prEN 18050:2023 (E)Introduction

User information is a set of instructions that come with vaping products, cartridges, prefilled containers, and accessories. The user information may be documented on a pull-out book known as a product information leaflet, adhered to the product itself in the case of prefilled containers, detailed on the packaging, or a reference provided that directs the consumer to the user information online.

This document establishes the instructions provided to the consumer, such as the instructions for the use and storage of the product as part of these user information details. The recommendations given in this document are relevant to most product types currently available, as well as to those that will be developed.

This document can provide state of the art guidance; however, in cases where national regulations currently exist, said regulations take precedence over this document. This document can provide supplementary information in addition to national regulations.

NOTE Legal requirements with regard to labelling and nicotine content are dictated by the TPD and CLP legislation. The aim of this document is to supplement and aid in the implementation of said regulations.
